THE FELLOW ON MY KNEE.

"Ef the country goes ter fightin'," Says the feller on my knee,
"Would you go and be a sojer, Like they say you used ter be?"
(I was all er'ong with Jackson, An' I faced the fight with Lee)
"I think I would," I answers Ter the fellow on my knee.

Then my mind went back a minute Ter the days o' sixty-one,
I saw the bayonets bristle— Heard the thunder o' the gun,
(I was mixed up in the fightin' 'Fore Sherman struck the sea,)
"I think I'd go," I answers Ter the fellow on my knee.

"Would you go an' leave my mother, Would you kiss good-bye ter me An' go marchin' with the sojers?" Says the fellow on my knee;
An' I feel a teardrop trickle (Fer I'm techous as kin be!)
"I think I would," I answers Ter the fellow on my knee,

"But I hope the wars air over, That we'll dwell upon the sod Forever and forever In the lovin' peace o' God!"
"But 'spose they went ter fightin', Would you help 'em out?" says he;
"I'm shore I would," I answers Ter the fellow on my knee.

THAT NEW RAILROAD—An item from Shelbyville states that the Shelbyville & Bloomfield Railroad Co. has been incorporated and that the new company will acquire the Bloomfield branch, recently purchased by the Southern, and extend the road on to Bardstown on the south and to Eminence and New Castle on the north. This is the first definite move that has been taken toward extending the line, although rumors to that effect have been current for some time. It is a question that the people of Springfield and Washington county should take up, as great benefit to our town and community may result therefrom. It has long been known that the Southern desires a line from Cincinnati into Nashville, and if one will take a look at the map of Kentucky it can be seen that by filling up a few gaps an air line road can be made by following the old Cumberland & Ohio survey—a part of which has been graded—from Shelbyville on north, through New Castle and Eminence to a point on the Southern system. From Bloomfield the most practical route would be over the old Cumberland & Ohio road-bed to Springfield and thence to Lebanon. At the latter place it might be possible to eventually acquire the Greensburg branch road, now under lease to the L. & N., but which lease will expire in about two years. From Greensburg the road could be built on through Metcalf, Barren and Allen counties and strike a branch of the Southern at Scottsville, Ky., which leads on into Nashville. The people of Bardstown have interested themselves in the matter and there is some talk of the road being run there. The people of Springfield and Washington county have done nothing as yet to induce the road to come this way, although the advantages of this route are far superior to any other. The old Cumberland & Ohio road, on which the taxpayers of this county are still paying, could be donated to and used by the new company, which would be a considerable inducement, as the road is already graded to within about three miles of the town. The prospects of getting another railroad through here, however indefinite, are certainly of sufficient importance to call for an effort being made on the part of our citizens to get it here. Some action should be taken by the business men toward setting forth the advantages and offering inducements to the promoters of the new road to get it here.

THEY TAKE IT UP—The people of Bardstown are quick to take up the matter of getting another railroad to their town, and at the first intimation that there was a chance for an extension of the Southern the citizens had a monster mass meeting and are now proposing inducements, setting forth advantages and trying to show the promoters of the railroad company that Bardstown is the best place the road could possibly lead to. Mass meetings and offering inducements do not always serve the purpose of building a railroad, but few things are secured without some effort and if the people of Springfield would demonstrate the fact that they are anxious to have the road come this way by a public meeting or something of that kind, it could do no harm and might result in great good.

STARTLING INFORMATION—Deep is the wisdom and wonderful is the information of the average special correspondent of metropolitan dailies. In his "specials" he furnishes not only curious items of news, but occasionally throws in some very valuable and startling information. Here is a fair sample, taken from the Louisville Times and marked "special" from Evansville. It reads:

"Mrs. Joseph Sutherland gave birth to triplets yesterday. All of them died a short time after birth. The father is one of triplets given birth to by his mother, and his wife's sister some time ago gave birth to quadruplets."

Now this is an item within an item. It is a curious combination of circumstances showing the profusive propagation of a certain family. But by far the most startling statement of the whole business—the one that even eclipses the quadruplets—is where the correspondent says: "The father is one of triplets given birth to by his mother." Now such information as that is of the kind that is worthy of the greatest degree of appreciation, and it shows that from none other than a mind of deep thought could have been evolved the conclusion that the man is one of triplets and that these same triplets, of whom he was one trip, were given birth to by his mother. Great is the special correspondent, and long may he live, for without him the columns of the city dailies would be dull and void of information.

A NEW INDUSTRY—Col. John T. Ruby, that versatile gentleman, politician and all-round hustler, has started a new enterprise in this country, which he says will flourish like a green bay tree. Col. Ruby has long been a dealer in horseflesh, in the common meaning of the term, and now he buys and sells horseflesh literally—that is, he buys and sells them again for what their flesh and hides will bring. Col. Ruby shipped a car load of old horses from here last week to Louisville. They were sold and their carcases used up in the glue and soap factories. The hides are shipped on East and probably are finally made into fine "calf-skin" shoes. Col. Ruby says there is a good supply of the class of horses he handles in some parts of this county, and he purposes to furnish the market for such that could hardly be utilized otherwise, not even in a county court day "swap."

PATRIOTIC—To be right up to date and in the procession it is now the proper thing, according to reports from various sections, for patriotic citizens to come forward and show their patriotism by offering to fight, bleed and die in fighting the bloody Spaniards. Spain has been badly licked any number of times already by the dry-goods box orator of the country store, and if one is to judge from the expressions one hears, Spain would not last as long against this country as the proverbial snow-ball in—a hot climate.

OH NO!—The Lebanon Enterprise says, the Gossiper, that "Old Original," as he calls us, intimates that Marion officials are winking at the escape of those prisoners from the Springfield jail. You are mistaken, Brother, we don't intimate. In the item to which reference is made, we stated that Jailer Smith said that the Marion officials refused to join him in the search for the men, and that certain of them told him that they did not care a continental if the prisoners did get away, or words to, that effect. There is a difference between a statement and an intimation.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time was cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

WITH OUR FARMERS.

Notices stock, seed or grain, wanted or for sale or exchange inserted in this column FREE OF CHARGE. Farmers are requested to send in stock or crop items for publication.

Woodford lamb buyers are offering 5 cents for June and 4 cents for July delivery. The crop in that county this year will be larger than last year.

A dispatch from Hopkinsville says: "A combine of Christian county farmers recently sold to a milling company here 35,000 bushels of wheat for $35,000 cash. This practically closes out the wheat crop of this county."

W. C. Rogers, the hustling farmer and stock dealer, sold and shipped last Thursday to George Toned, of Harper, Kansas, 88 Shorthorn and Aeroford cattle. On the same day he sold to S. T. Harbeson, of Lexington, two nice harness horses for $250.

The Quartermaster-General of the United States army has sanctioned Capt. J. B. Alexhre's proposition to print a picture of Gen. Castleman's young stallion, Goodwin, on the sheet containing specifications that are sent to contractors who undertake to supply remounts, as the perfect type of the cavalry horse wanted for the United States army.

If coarse manure is spread on the potato ground just before plowing it will do it last. It will remain dry under the furrow until midsummer. When it does ferment it will breed fungus, and the tubers will rot. It rotted and spread in the winter, the fertility will be incorporated in the soil, and there will be a vigorous growth and no excessive heating.

The following item, which we clip from the American Stock Farm, concerning the famous horse, Gazette, formerly owned in Marion county, will prove of interest in this vicinity: "At the recent sale of W. B. Fasig in New York City, J. B. Wathen, of Louisville, sold to Cyrille Lauren, of Montreal, P. Q., the fast pacing stallion Gazette 2:07½, for $2,150. Gazette is the fastest stallion in Canada, and, indeed, the fastest owned outside the United States."

Says the Lebanon Falcon: There was a large crowd in the city on Monday and considerable stock was on the market. The stock was not of prime quality, however, and as a result the demand was not very keen. Mr. Glazebrook, the auctioneer, sold four horses at prices ranging from $15 to $84. He sold 18 yearling steers for $24.50 each; three heifers at $15.15, and two steer calves at $17.60. First-class stock would have brought fancy figures.

Mrs. T. S. Grundy, of Valley Hill, this county, purchased last week from Mr. C. A. McCormack, of Waddy, Ky., the grandly bred red Shorthorn bull, "Montrose Duke," by Baron of Montrose 114,364, out of Oxford Duchess 7th, by Fibelbert 107811, tracing through Imported Oxford Duchess, by 2d Baron Oxford 23376 to Old Alicia, by Alfred 23. This is a grand bull, bred in the purple, and is sure to mix well with the Grundy Young Marys.

Hon. R. N. Wathen received a letter Wednesday from Van Natta & Son, Fowler, Indiana, in which they state: "We have just returned from a public sale of Hereford cattle at Emporia, Kansas, where 147 head sold for $63,000, an average of $432 per head, and many of them were under twelve months old." This firm asserts that Herefords are in great demand and bring long prices. The sale referred to certainly bears them out in their statement.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please us." For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

FENWICK.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Mrs. Sue Mock, of Louisville, was telephoned Friday to visit her aged mother, Mrs. Sally A. Fenwick, who yet remains dangerously ill.

Joseph Raybourn, one of the most extensive white burley growers in the county, shipped 18 hogsheads to Louisville last week and reports an average of about eleven cents per pound.

Misses Serena and Katie Nunan left last week to matriculate at the Bowling Green Business College. A course in short-hand, type-writing and bookkeeping is to supplement their present excellent educations.

Mr. J. R. Smith, our popular mechanic and contractor, made a flying trip to Lebanon Saturday.

Mrs. E. D. Edelen and Mrs. Harriet Wheatley were guests of Mrs. M. D. Montgomery Friday last.

Messrs. Albert and Edward Nunan, two well known young men of Fenwick, left Tuesday to accept situations in Kansas City. They have best wishes for success from many friends and associates in this section.

Thos. J. Nally shipped five hogsheads of first-class burley Friday, taking advantage of the brisk prices of this week's market.

Marion D. Hill has removed his family from the old Hill homestead to his new building in the vicinity of Litsys.

The new buildings in the village are progressing and the want of a telephone line is more frequently discussed. The business of the village and the increasing population of the surrounding country demand this necessary convenience, and it only needs a few of our business men to take the initiative and the success of the enterprise is guaranteed. Why delay it longer?

A bald eagle, of a decidedly belligerent cut and a piercing eye on the treacherous Spanish dons, has been discovered by a correspondent near Fenwick. It is presumed he (the said American eagle) is hovering around our village imbibing war inspiration and bolstering up his courage from the cloud-curdling war talk of the street corner.

Mr. W. J. Fowler, near this place, has in his possion a stone recently found by his brother Obed, imbedded in the roots of a large maple stump, which bears unmistakable evidence of having been the corner of one of the oldest surveys in this part of the state. The stone, though not large, has the cardinal points of the compass marked on it and the name "BEN&PKO-S3-1759" cut in the hard surface. The tree and stone stood near the once noted salt licks and Indian old fields, a conspicuous place in the early history of the country. A number of years ago a large salt kettle and other relics of early occupation of the place were unearthed near this same point. Fibon's first history of Kentucky makes mention of one Renfroe, a pioneer surveyor, having marked out claims for Walton Pope and others along the waters of Chaplin fork and its tributaries. As it is indicated by the sidelights on the early history of our state, when the pioneer heroes were not amusing themselves shooting Indians they did artistic carving of their names in hieroglyphics on trees, stones, etc., and it is possible that the stone in question is part of the record of some then important survey. Mr. Fowler will send the stone to the Filson Historical Club at Louisville.

Children and adults tortured by burns scalds, injuries, eczema or skin diseases may secure instant relief by using De-Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is the great pile remedy. Waters & Browne.

War, war, war, is all the people talk about now.

The farmers around here are busy plowing and sowing their tobacco beds.

Miss Annie Kelley, who has been visiting her brother Will of your town, for the past three weeks, has returned home.

Miss Lucy Settles is the pleasant guest of her sister, Mrs. John Clark.

Miss Pearl Williams spent last week with Miss Bertha Leachman.

Mrs. James Young is on the sick list.

Mr. John Noel, of Brooksville, who has been the guest of Mr. John Settle for the past week, has returned home.

The young folks of this neighborhood enjoyed quite a nice time Saturday night at Mr. Josh Inman's. There was a large number present.

Messrs. Albert and Edward Nunan left Monday for Kansas City, Mo., where they expect to go into business for the remainder of the season. Rose, 'tis very sad, but remember that Joy after grief is more compiete, And kisses never fall so sweet As when long-parted lovers meet.

Mrs. Cynthia Kelley has been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Susan Goatley, of Mooresville, who was very low with paralysis, the past week.

Mrs. James Trent, of Brooksville, passed through here Sunday enroute for Cincinnati to buy his spring goods.

Mr. Thomas Hedger, Antioch, is spending several days with his daughter, Mrs. Mary Clark.

The Maine Episode,

The Maine episode calls to mind how nearly Uncle Sam came to going to war with Chili in 1892. The trouble arose over the massacre in Valparaiso, Calif. of some American seamen of the U S Cruiser, Baltimore. The U. S government demanded indemnity for the loss of the sailors, and quietly made preparations for war in case Chili did not grant her demands. In the meantime the jingoes, as at present, were tearing their hair, because war was not declared at once, and were urging President Harrison to abandon discretion and throw the country into war regardless of the dire consequences. But the President disregarded their rantings, and peace was restored with honor. As it was then so we believe it will be with the Maine affair. We believe that the great newspapers of the land are responsible for the inflamed feeling throughout the country. In their eagerness to be sensational they have struck wide of the truth and have been disseminators of the most colossal falsehoods ever conceived. We believe the day for war between the United States and any country is past and that the present complications will be amicably and honorably disposed of without the shedding of a drop of blood on the field of battle.

HERE AND THERE.

February-1833. was in one way the most wonderful month in the world's history. It had no full moon. January and March each had two full moons but February had none. Astronomers say this is the only instance on record.

The whistle of a locomotive can be heard 3,300 yards, the noise of a train 3,800 yards, the report of a musket and the bark of a dog 1,800 yards, the roll of a drum 1,600 yards, the croak of a frog 900 yards, a cricket chirp 800 yards, a dinner bell two miles and a call to get up in the morning 3 feet 7 inches.

In a recent delivered sermon Talmage says:

When I see the printing press standing with the electric telegraph on the one side gathering up material, and the lightning express train on the other side waiting for the tons of folded sheets of newspapers, I pronounce it the mightiest force in civilization. So I commend you pray for all those who manage the newspapers of the land for all type setters, for all editors for all publishers, that, sitting or standing in positions of such great influence, they may give all that influence for God and the betterment of the human race.

This duck-legged, tight skinned dude was holding himself astraddle of a skittish, bob tailed society horse, going out Third Avenue sideways, like a towboat in a storm, when the old bench-legged yellow mule a old coon was riding met the dude, he shied, threw his ears forward, took a hump in his back and tried to lift his hind feet off the ground with his tail. The boy drove both heels into the mule's ribs and shouted: "Go on heah, yer dern ole fool; dat ain't gwine ter hurt." The dude went by, the mule lifted his ears, lowered his hurricane roof, limbered up his tail, and "cum a trottin," as the little coon who rode him sang:

"De funniest sight dat I ebber cum across
Was or duck-legged dood on a bob tail hoss."

Several young men of this place and vicinity while under the influence of liquor went to a negro cabin in Hood's park late last Saturday night and invited trouble which may bring some of them into the court house. They endeavored to gain admission into the hut and on being refused, proceeded to alarm the inmates. Bill Hayden in his fright ran out the door and was shot by one of the party, the ball penetrating his right arm. Blood poison had set up and death is almost certain to follow. A warrant is in the hands of officer Wilkinson for the arrest of young man who did the shooting. —Lebanon Enterprise.

The Judge's Pass.

I think about the nearest thing to heaven there could be
Would be to be a judge an' ride at one's own liberty;
He has passes in his pocket an' wears the best of clothes,
An' the porters are so polite to him no matter what else goes;
They know he's got the 'fluence, if he hasn't got the tin,
An' when they see him comin' they say:

"Walk in."

An' when he gets aboard the train to go off anywhere,
You bet they hustle 'round and see he gets the sofas' chair,
An' plunk to put his feet on an' a piller fer his head;
An' when he wants a sleeper gets the sofas' feather bed,
For a judge is mighty handy to stan' in with, don't you see?
That's why he gets a ticket that says:

"Free." ride
"You

But when he gets to heaven—will his pass avail him there?
Will it get him through the portals an' buy a golden chair?
When St. Peter takes the pasteboard an' scans it o'er and o'er,
Will he say "I'm glad to say ye, jedge," an' open up the door?
Oh, no; he'll call the bell boy with a "makes me tired" frown
An' say "Gabriel, take this gentleman an' show him down."

—Taylorsville Courier.

Taylorsville is gradually becoming the best stock market in this section of the State, as has been evidenced by the large amount of stock that has been sold on the streets on the last two county days. On February 7, County Court day, about $3,500 worth of stock was sold by the auctioneers, Messrs Collier and Crab, and last court day, the sale amounted to nearly $4,000.

Puny Children

Who would prescribe only tonics and bitters for a weak, puny child? Its muscles and nerves are so thoroughly exhausted that they cannot be developed into activity. The child needs food; a blood-making, nerve-strengthening and muscle-building food.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil is all of this, and you still have a tonic in the hypophosphites of lime and soda to act with the food. For thin and delicate children there is no remedy superior to it in the world. It means growth, strength, plumpness and comfort to them. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1898.

THE Louisville Dispatch is a good newspaper. Its success has been great and its influence in Kentucky is widespread, but its editorial writers have harped so long and loud about "Wall street," Lombard street," "Plutocrats," and against McKinley and the present administration that they are blinded to everything else. In the present great crisis between this country and Spain, when every loyal heart swells with patriotism and pride for our country, when petty political differences are forgotten and thousands of brave men, of all political creeds, are ready to stand shoulder to shoulder in defense of their country's honor, relying with all confidence in the cool judgment of our chief executive, the Dispatch comes forth with a lot of senseless twaddle about our President being influenced in his war policy by the Rothchilds, the "tyranny of the bond holder," and other pet phrases worn threadbare during the last campaign. The editor of the Dispatch has bad judgment and his utterances at times are untimely. President McKinley's worst enemies from all sides are endorsing the wise and patriotic policy he has adopted in regard to the trouble with Spain. Democratic members in both National Houses have signified their willingness to back him to a man, and the Democratic newspapers can find nothing to condemn in the President's attitude. It has been said that in all great emergencies there is some one created to meet it, and it has certainly proven true in the history of the great events of this country We believe that should the present crisis develop a great emergency that the people of this nation will find in Mr. McKinley a man to meet it, as they found in George Washington. Lincoln, Grant and Garfield in those great emergencies of the past.

THE war cloud is lowering and it is now conceded on all sides that hostilities between this country and Spain are likely to be opened any day. The United States has purchased two great war-ships of Brazil and activity in both navy and war departments continue. Coast defenses have been greatly strengthened. The court of inquiry into the Maine investigation is expected to report in a few days and it is understood that they will show unmistakably that the Maine was blown up by design. The government at Washington has practically decided upon the immediate preparation of a flying squadron to menace the coast of Spain as a retort to the coming of the Spanish torpedo flotilla, which has sailed from Cadiz for American waters. This is perhaps the most warlike act yet contemplated, and while it would be little short of war, there is believed to be no doubt that the step has been decided upon.

THE Goebel election bill, which takes from the control of the County Judge of each county the appointment of election officers and gives it to three commissioners, and which has other objectionable features which have been condemned by both Democrats and Republicans, has become a law owing to the great influence wielded by the great William Goebel in the recent Kentucky Legislature. However objectionable the measure in itself may prove, the members of the General Assembly did a wise and popular thing in the selection of the three election commissioners. The men named are Judge William S. Pryor, of New Castle; Capt. W. T. Ellis, of Owensboro, and Charles H. Poynitz of Maysville, representing Central, Western and Eastern Kentucky respectively. Some of the Republican leaders held a caucus at Frankfort after the passage of the measure and decided to test the legality of the new law in the courts.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN CURES CONSTIPATION.

Frankfort News.

(Special to the NEWS-LEADER.)

FRANKFORT, KY., Mch. 14.—The dying days of the legislative session are being marked by the most sensational episodes in the history of the rather erratic and unusual meeting of solons. The feeling aroused over the partisan bills has been the cause of three or four warm personal encounters in which serious hurt was only avoided by the intervention of friends of the combatants. The Wills-Pepp fight, the Bronston-Elmore and Bronston-Cains settles, and the Farris Clark spats were only the public outbursts growing out of the numerous private verbal sparring matches which were indulged in by the members during the discussion of the all-important Goebel and the other legislation which was as objectionable to one faction as it was favorable to another. But I hope these exhibitions of a sanguinary nature are all the hostilities that will be reported from here during the now rather short life of the term and that the session will pass away as peacefully and tranquilly as the "death of the dove."

The Third district gerrymander bill, taking Cumberland and Monroe counties from the Third Congressional district and placing them in the Eleventh, and taking Metcalfe from the Eleventh and putting it in the company of the Third district counties, was passed over the Governor's veto Saturday in a jiffy The Eighth district bill was passed on Friday and the Third appellate district gerrymander bill was passed over the veto today by a partisan Democratic vote. This makes Judge Lewis' district safely Democratic. Five other vetoes were sent in by the Governor with the Third district gerrymander bill.

The caucus to nominate the three election commissioners provided for under the Goebel election law has been called to meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the hall of the House. It is said by inside sources that the following slate has been cut and dried for selection and that it will go through without a hitch at any point: Ex-Congressman Wm. T. Ellis, of Owensboro; L. D. Leach, of Princeton; Charles B. Poynitz of Maysville. Mr. Leach is one of those rather unusual political curiosities developed during the last national campaign, a free-silver banker. He has been on the ground for a week looking after his interests.

The bills for the last two days of the session are scheduled to keep the members of both Houses at work until midnight tomorrow night. As I write this every solon is up to his eyes in hard labor, sorting out the bills he wants to call up, or getting resolutions prepared for this afternoon's session, when much legislation will be enacted finally. The enrolling clerks will be kept busy until a late hour tomorrow night and there will then be a long list of bills resting in the calendar. Fully one-third of the five hundred bills introduced since the gavel fell on opening day have been killed in committee, another third failed to pass both Houses and the remaining third are on the calendar or have passed. But less than one hundred measures have passed either house and not near so many have passed both. Probably not over forty bills will become laws as a result of the session.

The local option bill had been expected to revolutionize liquor selling in the state and make many a county now reveling in the oily fluid dry as the bone of an ossified man. But Representative Haswell, of Breckinridge, when he attempted to bring up the bill last Friday sounded its death knell. It was dropped back in the orders of the day and stands no more show of passing than I stand of being elected president of the Bungtown chamber of commerce.

The new prison commission will meet about Wednesday to elect a full set of officers who will take the places of the Republicans now in charge, if the bill passes muster and is not declared unconstitutional, a thing the Democrats say is impossible. The commission will present the names of the officers to the sinking fund commissioners and will be refused recognition for them. Then the mandamus proceedings for possession of the places will be begun by the Democratic commissioners. The present incumbents are said to be ready to resist any attempt at usurpation until the law directs them to step down and out.

The Republicans maintain that Ed Finnell, one of the commissioners, cannot serve because elected by the Legislature to an office termed in the constitution a minor Legislative office, to which the Legislature cannot elect exceeding four years. Jim Richardson, of Glasgow, was given the four year term and Henry George the two year term. Ex Chief Justice Pryor and Judge Holt will represent the sinking fund in the litigation over the matter.

Representative Saunders, of Union county, be of Lindsay-resolution fame, is said to be slated for deputy warden at the Eddyville pen under the new regime. Senator Ferguson is said to have the wardenship at the same prison nailed down. The Rev. Alvin Bertram is a tip for chaplain. Dr. J. H. Lackey seems a cinch for prison physician and South Trimble will be warden at Frankfort if the Democratic plans do not miscarry. Representative Bishop of New port, will be the deputy warden here and Dr. Hugh Tobin will get the physician appointment. The Rev. Elijah Petty, of Grant county, will be chaplain up here, while Jarvis Stone is the best backed man for penitentiary clerk.

If there was any doubt of there being patriotism and to spare in this body of law-making statesmen up here, it was removed on Saturday when the rumor went flying over the city that the United States cruiser Montgomery had met the fate of the Maine in the Havana harbor. The legislature adjourned for five minutes to hear the news confirmed or denied. In the meantime the expressions I heard indicated the feeling that was prevalent. Republicans and Democrats forgot their differences as they scored the Spanish and expressed themselves in no unmistakable language. Fortunately it was a canard, for if it had not been Kentucky might have been the scene of the first real war-like movement.

To Consumptives.

As an honest remedy Foley's Honey and Tar does not hold out false hopes in advanced stages, but truthfully claims to give comfort and relief in the very worst cases, and in the early stages to effect a cure. Haydon & Robertson.

In another column we have endeavored to give a few pointers on the prospects and possibilities of another railroad for Springfield, and we desire to emphasize the need of the citizens of this community in taking hold of the matter and making an effort to attract the attention of the promoters of the new road in this direction. This is a matter also in which the citizens of Lebanon might join us to mutual advantage, and we would like to hear something from our neighboring town on the subject.

A Little Sniffle

or a stubborn cold, or a deep-seated cough can be cured for good with Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. This famous remedy takes hold in time and stop the progress of consumption and bring the color back to the pallid cheek. Druggists sell it.

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and potash remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break forth in a more virulent form, resulting in a total wreck of the system.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, a prominent jeweler at 926 Pensylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., says: "I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars. My mouth was filled with eating sores; my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly, and I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles I was cured sound and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery." S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. Books on the disease and its treatment mailed free by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. James McIlvoy, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is improving slowly.

Miss Cordie Taylor, of Harrodsburg, is visiting at Mr. Erasmus Brown's.

There was a missionary rally held at the Christian church on Saturday night, March 5th, and several interesting features of missions and mission work were observed. The program was interspersed with missionary songs and was well rendered and well received. It was a service preparatory to the regular March collection for foreign missions on Sunday and no doubt had its weight in the collection. The exercises were in charge of the minister, Rev. C. H. Poage, assisted by J. B. Lister.

Eld. J. B. Lister closed his series of meetings at the Christian church Thursday night with a temperance lecture, illustrated by the scene, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

Rev. Geo. Scruggs of Mooresville, Ind., attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Crouch, here Saturday.

IN MEMORIAM.

We never become familiar with death. The common lot of man, which is as old as the race, is always appallingly new.

How hard to have the loving ties which have bound us to our friends so completely severed by the great Destroyer. But such it ever shall be!

Yet how sweet the consciousness in these dark hours that there is a life beyond, where there is no death, neither sorrow nor crying; neither is there any more pain.

'Tis so comforting to know that a trusting christian life is sure to end in a happy, perceful death! Such was the life and such the death of Miss Kate Hundley, who passed peacefully into the beyond at 5:30 p. m., March 9th. She was a devoted sister and a true, loving friend.

Those who knew her, love to testify to her sweet, self-sacrificing life—a life of devotion to her family and friends and a life of trust in the Savior. Words are but empty tributes to the memory of such a life. We hold her sacred in our hearts. Her place cannot be filled in her home or the community; yet we are persuaded that our loss is her eternal gain. Quietly, trustingly, she passed from us and is gone to swell the great majority.

A large procession of friends slowly followed the mortal remains to their last resting place and mingled their tears with the bereaved brothers and sisters. In the quiet churchyard of the Camp Ground she was laid to rest, beside those who had preceded her, and as we turned away we felt we could almost hear those sweet words: "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever woke to weep;
A calm, an undisturbed repose,
Unbroken by the last of foes."

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

IN commenting on the case of the town of Springfield against the Peoples' Bank for back taxes we led some to infer that a judgment was rendered against the bank. Such was not the case, for the case was not submitted for trial on its merits. The bank demurred to the suit and the demurrer was overruled, so that the case will now be tried on its merits.

A CABIN on the Bloomfield pike about a mile and a half from town was burned on last Saturday. The cabin had been occupied by Dave Spalding, a colored man. Spalding had moved from the house a day or two before, and it is said was forced out by the Hogan brothers from whom he had attempted to buy the place, but there was some controversy over the payment due.

BEN POWELL, the clever guardian of Uncle Sam's mail on the route from Springfield to Mackville, came in yesterday with a story of a wonderful hail storm that occurred in the Mackville neighborhood at an early hour yesterday. Ben says that for about ten minutes hail stones fell as large as guinea eggs, and that glass in the windows of several houses was broken, and that at one place the stones fell hard enough to make holes in a tin roof. He says that people from a point several miles beyond Mackville report that hailstones as large as a goose egg fell in that vicinity.

NED MORAN, an old colored citizen, who lives in the Valley Hill neighborhood, is one of the most remarkable men in the county. He is the father of twenty-eight children. During or just before the war he married, and his first wife bore him four children and died. Shortly after he married again, and two weeks ago his wife gave birth to her twenty-fourth child since she was married to Ned just twenty-six years ago. She has never borne twins, but the children have come singly and with the regularity of time itself. Uncle Ned is a veteran of the civil war and draws a pension of twenty dollars a month. Only about eight of his children have lived to maturity.

THE last meeting of the Chautauqua was held with Miss Bettie Irvin, and proved to be the largest meeting held this winter. It was unanimously decided by the class as well as the visitors present, Hawaii should not be annexed to the United States. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Ella McElroy's on upper Main street, to-morrow night The following is the program: Quotations from Ruskin; Remainder of questions on lesson; the question table; "The Paris Commune," Miss Mary Browne; "The Women of the present Cabinet," Miss Bettie Irvine; "Zola's Imprisonment," Miss Kate Mayes; "A study of Sicily," Mrs. A. H. 'McChord; "The Chariot Race," Miss Ella Craycroft.

MR. J. M. MCMANIMUS, representing the Chicago Building and Manufacturing Company, a concern that makes machinery for creameries, is here this week trying to interest some of our citizens in an effort to build a creamery and cheese establishment at this place. Mr. McManimus made a talk at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, and outlined his plans. He proposes to assist in selling $4,000 worth of stock among the business men here, and guarantees for that amount of money to put in a first-class establishment. He is still here and has met with considerable encouragement, a good many citizens agreeing to take stock in the concern. Washington county is a good dairy county, with a home market for milk and cream, the farmers would make a great effort to keep on hand good milch cows.

THE sale of the franchise for privilege for putting water works and laying mains and water pipes through the town of Springfield, which was advertised, occurred Monday at the hour named. Mr. W. B. Spears, as auctioneer, after reading the ordinance, called for bids, and Mr. J. A. Holmboe, of Louisville, offered the sum of one dollar for the franchise. There was no other bid and Mr. Holmboe become the purchaser under conditions specified in the ordinance. The Board of Town Trustees will hold a meeting on the 30th of this month, at which time Mr. Holmboe is expected to submit plans and propositions which must be acceptable to the board before the sale of the franchise is finally ratified. Mr. Holmboe has a survey of the various sites proposed for the building of a reservoir about town, and is thoroughly satisfied that a good water system can be put in here that will be self-sustaining and a paying investment. He says that he is prepared to build the plant. His object is to organize a stock company. He would prefer to get citizens of Springfield interested in the company, but if they will not take hold he is prepared to build the system anyway. The town is to have no interest in the company as yet and will be required to pay a certain sum per annum for the use of fire plugs. Mr. Holmboe has not yet given out the details of his plan, but everything will be submitted to the meeting of the Trustees before anything will be done toward a ratification of the sale.

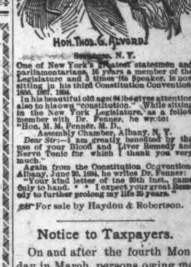
STATE OF NEW YORK.



HON. THOS. G. ALVORD.
Syracuse, N. Y.
One of New York's "Famous" statesmen and Gentlemen, and for years a member of the Legislature and Chief Justice Speaker, is one of the most prominent Constitution Conventions of 1894.
In his beautiful old age he deserves attention and he knows "constipation." While sitting in the New York Legislature, as a follow member with Dr. Pierce, he wrote:
"Hon. R. M. Pender, M. D.
Assembly Chamber, Albany, N. Y.
Dear Sir:—I am greatly benefited by the use of your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic for which I thank you very much.
Again from the Constitution Convention, Albany, June 20, 1894, he writes Dr. Pierce:
"Your kind letter of the 20th inst., came duly to hand. * * I expect your great Remedy to further prolong my life 20 years."

One of Two Ways.
The bladder was created for one purpose, namely a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.
CHIEF CAUSE.
Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. As the womb like the bladder, was created for one purpose and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passages often by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly set your urine aside for twenty-four hours. A sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cent and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention NEWS-LEADER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co Binghamton N. Y. Deacon Todd's Singin' Voice.

By J. L. HARBOUR.

Deacon Todd and his wife, Eliza Ann, were two somewhat notable characters who flourished in a rural New England neighborhood a good many years ago. They were an entirely inoffensive old couple, highly respected by all, although it was admitted that they were "rather peculiar." Their peculiarities did not, however do anyone any harm, and their neighbors told the simple truth when they said that there wa'n't a better-hearted couple anywhere than Moses and Eliza Ann Todd."

They were devoted members of the little Baptist church on the bank of the river a mile or two from their house, and every Sunday morning, in sunshine or in storm, winter and summer alike, they wended their way over the hills "to meetin'."

One of the deacon's illusions was that he was a fine singer. He admitted, when he was seventy-five, that he could not sing like he "used to could," but he could still "outsing" any member of the church or choir, if he 'got warmed up to it."

The painful fact was that, as outspoken Keziah Shute said: "Deacon Todd couldn't sing, no more'n a horse could." He made a noise—a tremendous, ear-splitting, blood-curdling noise—without any suggestion of time, or tune, or harmony in it.

"He jest bellers, that's it; he simply bellers," declared Keziah. "It's enough to raise the dead out in the churchyard when he gits to goin' it on anything like 'How Firm a Foundation' or 'From Greenland's Icy Mountains.' Somebody ought to tell 'im that he can't sing the least mite."

But when he was seventy five no one had yet imparted this information to Deacon Todd. The deacon was about the "best off" of anyone in his neighborhood, and he generally entertained visiting elders or other church dignitaries who chanced to be tarrying in the vicinity.

One Sunday Elder Tubbs was announced to preach at the church. Now Elder Tubbs was a man of wide reputation and his coming was quite an event, and Deacon and Eliza Ann Todd prepared to entertain him in a manner becoming one in his position. He was a very large and stiffly dignified man, whose manner conveyed the impression that he never laughed himself and could n.uld not countenance that folly in others.

After a discourse an hour and three-quarters in length, Elder Tubbs was invited to go home and dine with Deacon Todd.

The deacon had brought his little two-seated light wagon to church, and when he started home he was seated on the front seat, while Elder Tubbs and Eliza Ann sat on the back seat.

Now Deacon Todd, who was of a joyful nature, always sang when he was driving. The people in the neighborhood were so familiar with this peculiarity of the deacon's that when they heard wierd, unearthly noises in the night, or in the daytime, they said, "Deacon Moed must be abroad. That's him screechin."

Perhaps if the deacon had not been so deaf he would have realized his limitations as a vocalist. But he was so deaf that his shrillest and highest notes sounded faintly in his ears, and one had to scream when talking to him.

When fairly started on his homeward way, with Elder Tubbs and Eliza Ann behind him, on this memorable Sunday, the deacon began to roar out:

"On Jeeden's stormy banks I stand,
And c-a-s-a-s-t a wishful eye."

This was followed by "Corc-nation" and "Happy Day," and "Are We Sinners Yet Alive?"

In his heart the deacon thought that he was giving the elder a rare musical treat, but the look of weariness and impatience on the elder's face indicated a lack of appreciation of the deacon's effort. They had reached the bottom of a long sand hill and as the old horse began to climb it the deacon started in:

"We're a-goin' home for to die no more,

Higher and shriller rose his awful voice. The woods and vales gave echo, and the cattle in the fields took to their heels. The wagon was about half-way up the hill when, without the least warning a screw or bolt of some kind gave way, and the seat on which Eliza Ann and the elder were seated, tipped back, and out it went over the end of the wagon, carrying the elder and Eliza Ann with it!

Eliza Ann shrieked, but the deacon was on his highest notes and did not hear her. He drove on, s reaming out:

"If you git there before I do,
Look out for me, I'm a-comin', too!"

"Deacon!" called out the elder, sternly.

But the deacon heard them not. Ignorant of all that had happened, he drove on repeating:

"If you git there before I do,
Tidder dum, I dum, I dum Ido."

Sometimes the deacon would omit a line when he was singing, and sing in its place a senseless jargon like that given above.

The elder and Eliza Ann had, fortunately, fallen into about a foot of sand and were not hurt; but by the time they had recovered from the surprise and shock of the fall and picked themselves up, the deacon was nearly to the top of the hill. The elder was too large to run and although he tried to do so, the deacon disappeared over the brow of the hill, still singing: "If you git there before I do," etc.

Half an hour later he drove into his own dooryard, and his daughter came to the door and asked:

"Why, father, where's mother and the elder?"

The deacon looked back. "Well, I—I'll be switched!" he said. "What be they? That's what I'd like to know." The deacon gathered up his reins and said: "I reckon I spilled 'em out somewhars on the road—on that sand hill likely. Your ma'll be awfully upset over it, an' the elder—well, I'd ruther face Eliza Ann than the elder!"

He met them toiling slowly up another hill in the burning sun. The elder was unmistakably indignant and Eliza Ann looked as well as uttered sharp reproof. They drove home in silence and the deacon said afterward

"It didn't seem to me as if I could ever lift up my voice to sing again."

"I wouldn't try if I were you," said Eliza Ann.

But this advice was lost on the deacon.

"If the Lord hadn't wanted me to sing He wouldn't have gifted me with a singin' voice," said the deacon; "an' I'm goi' to keep on a-singin' here until I'm called to the choir above, and then I'll never stop."—Democrat's Family Magazine.

Water or Wine.

At this late day there is a howl going up among sea-faring men over the water baptism Miss Bradley intends to give our battleship. They say if her bow is not bathed in the customary wine, she will be unlucky, or considered as such, which will amount to the same thing. There seems to be a superstition among mariners about departing from the example set them by the old Vikins, of dashing a cup wine over the bow of a ship when she makes her first plunge into the water. Men who follow the sea say that those who man the Kentucky will feel that they have not had the proper send off, and will take only a half hearted interest in their ocean home, which may result disastrously to the navy. They say landsmen do not understand how saiors look upon the change; for the significance of the wine baptism is only understood by sea-faring folk. The future of the water christened battleship will be watched with interest by temperance and anti temperance people, and should she prove as staunch as the cause she represents the United States navy will have no reason to feel ashamed of her. —Harrodsburg Democrat.

Prosperous.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best known remedy for consumption, coughs and colds, and all throat and chest troubles. Every bottle is guaranteed. It is the best remedy for children. 25 and 50c. Haydon & Robertson.

Prosperous.

Bradstreet says: "Nearly all signs point to one unprecedented volume of business being done or arranged for that present time. The aggressive strength of prices, record breaking bank clearances and continued large exports, particularly of the lower priced cereals, a very heavy volume of business in iron and steel and kindred lines, and generally satisfactory reports as to the volume of spring trade at leading distributive centers are among the visible features of this trade development. Nearly all of the country's cereal products are higher in price this week, as are also some varieties of provisions. Bessemer pig iron, copper, raw cotton and tin.

Have You had the Grip?

If you have, you probably need a reliable medicine like Foley's Honey and Tar to heal your lungs and stop the exciting cough incidental to this disease. Haydon & Robertson.

Famous Robbery.

The serious illness of the notorious ex-bandit, Frank James, recalls the Mammoth Cave stage robbery in which he and his brother Jesse played conspicuous roles, and for which crime the Barren Circuit Court was burdened for years only to dismiss after conviction and upon the killing of Jesse James that the State had worked upon a case of mistaken identity and that the accused had languished in jail and, been sentenced to a term in the penitentiary for no other reason than his striking resemblance to the deceased brother of the now sick ex-bandit," said a citizen to the Glasgow News recently. "I am told that Hunt, who resembled Jesse James sufficiently as to be taken for him by the best detectives in the Pinkerton agency, is living quietly near Scottsville and is leading the life of an exemplary citizen. His stolid silence during the time of his incarceration and at the trial was a mystery to every body after the most convincing proof of his innocence was established by the finding of the watch taken from Judge Rountree by the robbers, up on the person of Jesse James and also the confession of Dick Little, another one of the band, as to the diamond rings taken from the Judges daughters and giving the names of the parties who committed the crime. Had Hunt chosen he could easily have proven his whereabouts on the day of the robbery, but he preferred to remain silent, and but for the killing of Jesse James and the noble work of Judge Rountree, who, though a leading witness for the Commonwealth, was never entirely convinced of the prisoner's guilt in securing his pardon, Tom Hunt would have served a sentence in the Frankfort penitentiary for no other reason than his resemblance to Missouri's dreaded outlaw."—Nelson Record.

by the timely use of Bell's Pine Tar Honey. When a cold creeps upon you or a cough racks your lungs, no remedy is so prompt or effectual.

She's a Kisser.

Miss Beatrice Cunningham, who hails from Cadiz, Ky., has created a sensation in this city by introducing herself to the public in the role of Jack the Kisser. Miss Cunningham is selling a book, the production of her own thoughts, entitled "Jacky, Jacky, Jacky, or the Pink Rose Blossoms," and when business gets dull the festive little Kentucky miss makes a proposition to kiss the homliest man in town if the boys will buy two of her "Pink Rose Blossoms." This morning the female kisser found business dull and in order to restore prosperity she kissed a prominent bachelor real estate agent four times on the mouth in the presence of a dozen spectators. The kissing act was performed upon the main street of our city, and Miss Cunningham immediately found her books very much in demand.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

A thrill paterrors is experienced wher a brassy cough of croup sounds through the house at night. But the terror soon changes to relief after One Minute Cough Cure has been administered. Safe and harmless to for children. Waters & Browne.

Strange Money.

"The strangest money I ever saw," said a drummer for a Main street house the other evening, "was in the mountain districts of Kentucky and West Virginia. Last summer I was making my semi annual tour through this district and stopped one day at a little grocery and saloon, not to sell goods, but to get a drink of the 'mountain dew.' While I was pouring out my drink a big husky mountaineer entered the place and called for a drink. As he finished gulping it down he reached into a big bulky pocket book and drew forth what looked to be a coonskin. He laid the skin on the counter, the barkeeper took the skin and, opening the drawer, hauled out a rabbit skin, which I suppose was the change. The mountaineer picked up the rabbit skin and started to the front part of the store, which was the grocery. He then bought a twist of tobacco and tendered the rabbit skin in payment. He received a big twist of long green, and I was surprised to see the store-keeper reach in another drawer and tender him a squirrel skin. The mountaineer tucked the squirrel skin in his pocket, walked out, whittled his horse and rode away.

"I became interested and engaged the proprietor in conversation. He told me that sometimes he would go months without seeing any real money, and that the mountaineers used the skins in all kinds of trades, such as buying horses, etc. He said that four times a year a hide buyer from Lexington or Cincinnati visited the county and bought up all the skins which were generally concentrated in the few stores in the vicinity.—Louisville Dispatch.

Why She Wears Pants.

Dr. Mary Walker, the well-known advocate of dress reform for women was among the guests at the White House reception recently and was attired in her usual suit of masculine apparel, consisting of a Prince Albert coat which she wears closely buttoned, and a pair of black trousers. During the evening she met with the Chinese minister, who asked her, "Why do you wear pants?" She was considerably surprised at the bluntness of the question, but did not lose her presence of mind, and answered by asking: "Why do you wear a gown?" The minister replied; "Because it is the custom of my country." She said: "I wear trousers because this is a free country, and people are not compelled to follow a custom. This conversation reminds us of the answer made by Jerry Simpson to a woman in Washington woman who said that she "Would like to see if the newspaper reports that he didn't wear socks were true." He replied that he was a believer in reciprocity and had no objection, but he would "like to see if she wore socks."

No Effort at Cadure.

The Marion Falcon, in speaking of the Marion county prisoners' escape from the Springfield jail recently, says: Apparently no effort has been made to recapture the escaped prisoners, though some of the citizens of Marion and Taylor counties are living in a state of terror. It is charged that some of the prisoners have threatened to kill the witnesses who have appeared against them before the grand jury and burn their property, and they are known to be desperate men. At Raywick, this county, armed guards patrol the streets every night, and some families in Taylor near the Marion line fear the vengeance of the Sanders boys.

When the Ship-Horton tragedy occurred a couple of weeks ago, a brother of the former stated that the Horton-Sanders gang murdered a peddler in Taylor county a couple of years ago and that Ship was killed because he knew of it. A peddler disappeared suddenly and mysteriously at the time mentioned and it is feared other former friends of the gang, who have knowledge of the crime, will be removed summarily too.

On last Thursday night information reached Lebanon that Alfonso and Tom Sapp, both indicted for the murder of Marples, were seen at Arbuckle's creek going toward their home, but the officers alleged they had no authority to arrest them. Since then bench warrants have been issued for the escaped prisoners, but up to the time of going to press they have not been captured.

La Grippe Cured

This modern malady has become dreaded not more for its direct fatality than for the weakness of body and mind it leaves behind it. Prolonged debility, permanent prostration, melancholy and suicide follow La Grippe. For this disease there is no remedy superior to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"The best remedy for la grippe that I know of is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."
REV. JOHN K. CHASE,
South Hampton, N. H.

"My wife and five children were taken down with la grippe, while the disease was so widely prevalent. I dosed them with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before using quite two bottles my family was restored to health. I know of several obstinate cases of the same complaint which were also cured by this remedy."
J. PARMINTER,
Paulette, Miss.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of good works, of the severest and most persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has routed, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is especially prized by mothers for their children, as it never fails a speedy cure, and because they have found that there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. Sold by Haydon & Robertson.

A Terrible accident occured at Spurlington yesterday morning which cost Ezra Tucker, a valued railroad employe his life. The young man was caught between the coupling apparatus while in the performance of his duty. He was brought to Lebanon and medical aid summoned. Dr. McChord rendered him every assistance possible but he could do nothing to prevent the inevitable. Death came about 2 o'clock and his remains were sent to Greensburg, his home, on the evening train.—Lebanon Enterprise.
